2.1 Third-country nationals with the right to work in Sweden for a limited time:

Foreign companies domiciled in an EU / EEA country other than Sweden may register ID06 cards to third-country nationals who have EU residence permit cards that are issued with Residence Permit (residence permit) issued with at least one years of validity and also stated with the right to work or other text. with the same meaning, English or in the country's own language on the front or back. With the EU residence permit card, the posted third-country national has the right to work in Sweden for 3 months.

However, if a Swedish EU residence permit card also has been issued by the Swedish Migration agency, then the ID06 card can be issued for a longer period, the validity period of the ID06 card is then governed by the validity of the A1 certificate and by whether the coordination number exists.

EU card indicated by Permanent Residence Permit also applies and doesn't need to be stated with the right to work. That right is included in a Permanent Residence Permit.

Note: No other document is accepted for verification of posted third-country nationals' right to be posted to Sweden for work other than an EU residence permit card.

Information on ID06 requirements for EU residence and work permit cards:

ID06 does not accept documents other than the EU residence permit card stated with the right to work with validity of at least one year for verification of third-country national's residence in the EU country from which they are posted. It is then that national legislation that applies to the right of third-country nationals to work in another EU country and Swedish legislation requires that the third-country national be resident in the EU country from which they are posted.

Swedish legislation states in the Aliens Regulation chapters 5, 2 §, 4 p:

"For the period of temporary work in progress for a foreigner residing in an EEA State but not an EEA national or national in Switzerland, if the foreign national has the right to work and reside in that country and is employed by a company in that country and on behalf of the company shall work temporarily in Sweden in connection with a contract or similar. "

A third-country national with the right to work in an EU country for a short limited time is by definition not resident in that EU country.

Accordingly, ID06 will not accept documents that are in violation of Swedish legislation, as a stay for short-term employment in another EU / EEA country, nor will VISA D be accepted. None of those documents give the right to third-country nationals to be posted from another EU / EEA country for work in Sweden.
